One Business, One Card

Pasadena Public Library is announcing a new library card for local business and organizations!

With this card, you can:

- Access the library's online business resources at home or at work. The library subscribes to more than 30 databases, including business, news and more. Visit PasadenaPublicLibrary.net/eresources for a full listing.

- Share the card with your employees to take full advantage of these helpful online resources. Give your card number to anyone in your business or organization to use. The card is to be used only for accessing online resources. It cannot be used to check out any materials. So feel free to share!

- Receive notification of the library's new business programs, services, and resources.

To get a business library card, please complete the application form on the right, tear it off and bring it to the library's circulation desk with:

- Your photo ID

- A proof of relationship between you and the business (you don't need to be the business owner to apply), such as a business card, business license, or any other business documents with your name, the business name and address on it.
