Comments	The temporary FEMA trailers at the Rose Bowl were originally intended for emergency housing in situations like we saw with Covid-19. These units are temporary but the degree of temporary is where we find ourselves in a sticky situation. The term temporary can mean a few days, weeks, months or a year but what you are considering is permanent temporary housing with this zoning amendment. I don't believe we can build a great city with these kinds of structures nor should it be the goal.

How will these units be serviced? Will they be located in view on our city streets? Will there be code regulations when they become dilapidated? Will they have an address for mail? How will those being housed in these trailers take part in needed services? Will the person be permanently housed in this trailer never making room to allow another person to utilize its shelter? Will the individual be allowed to have more occupants and how is that monitored? Do we now have to create a city department of staff and public works teams to manage these units? Is this the best use of our limited resources to help the homeless? Thank you, Erika Foy
