Good morning Mr. Pelayo,

Hope you are staying safe during these strange and isolating times.

My husband and I are new owners of an apartment that would be negatively impacted by the project on 253 Los Robles.

We have not moved in yet and are in the process of furnishing and decorating our new apartment. We felt happy and excited about living in Pasadena, a community known for its high standards and care for its residents as well as businesses.

Upon learning about the possibility of the project's proposed height and number of units we immediately felt regret. Our apartment has two balconies looking out to the south. If this project is built, we will be looking at and be looked at directly. I'm afraid it could be an extremely uncomfortable situation especially because one of the balconies is in a bedroom.

We purposefully and intentionally chose to move to Pasadena even though it is considered an expensive city to live in. It is a vibrant community with a wonderful balance of residents, activities, culture and entertainment. I hope that this 'wonderfulness' can be maintained by not letting it to be overcrowded. As I said before, we just invested in our new home, and I believe it would immediately lose value the moment I can stare into my neighbors' dwellings.

I hereby express my opposition and discontentment regarding the proposed project on 253 S. Los Robles. If it is rebuilt, please be of similar height as it is now.

Thank you,
Gloria & Ray Liu
