Subject: Cordova project. We are really in a big rush to build out this city. There is nothing that some fancy words can't offer to allow the city to become unlivable. Nothing in Pasadena is becoming Old it's going to be called Pasadena New.

I think it's time to slow down the development and wait to see how many people are left in the city after the Coronavirus finishes the damage that is being done right now and will continue into 2021. Everywhere we look another building is going up. The mayor promised a slow down in development. Just wonder when he plans to start?
