Appreciate the reply. Do not use Chrome but the link you supplied works fine on Firefox. No clue why public comments should not be sent in prior to the meeting as the Pasadena Now story said nothing about it. Watched the entire video demonstration. Slick on production, weak on reality.

As far as public comments I would say; We live in East Pasadena and like it. Stop making it something we don't want. Projects should reflect real world needs and not wish lists. This must include adequate parking. Not having it translates to neighbor conflicts. I walk in this area and never think the sidewalks are too crowded. This like bikeways that nobody uses are a joke.

Thanks, Howie

As for the comments link, yours was incorrect it should be <https://www.cityofpasadena.net/planning/public-comment/>

Also as per the Agenda, public comment window will open at the start of the meeting. If you can not make it to the meeting you can send your comments to me and I will send them to the commissioners and this will be recorded.

Thank You.

Love how the city wants public input but the links they supply do not work
