

Cubetto Coding

Recommended Age: 3-6

Program a friendly wooden robot to move around a colorful fabric map, by plugging code pegs into a logic board. Cubetto comes with different stories you can help him to act out, traveling around the map and going on adventures. This beautifully designed story-based coding set is great for introducing small children to concepts about sequencing, patterns, and logic!

Steam Kit: Cubetto Coding
Recommended Age: 3 and up

Getting Started Guide

Use the books included with the kit to get ideas for exploring coding with Cubetto.

Important: Cubetto does not have a light indicator to show you that he is still on. When Cubetto is not in use, you must remember to switch him off by moving the switch on his bottom side (with the wheels) from the line to the circle. Line = "on"; circle = "off." When you turn Cubetto on, he will make some beeps.

The board also requires you to remember to turn it off. When you turn on the board, it will light up three times but then the lights will go away. You must turn off the board when it is not in use by flipping it over and moving the switch from the line (on) to the circle (off). This will save batteries.
