Subject: harvest license Revoked

CAUTION: This email was delivered from the Internet. Do not click links or open attachments unless you know the content is safe.

Harvest, improperly allowed by the city of Pasadena to use a shell entity to hide its true ownership and control and improperly allowed to continue forward to apply for a conditional use permit in old Pasadena even with multiple fatal issues in its submission like a completely defective surveyor certificate, gets a license it controls in Pennsylvania using a “management agreement” (just like it is being allowed to do in Pasadena) revoked Today.

Wake up. Harvest’s cup application should have been rejected as filed.
